Top Salesmen And Distributors Get Convention Awards

More than 300 distributors and suppliers who attended the Dorsey Trailers 1961 National Sales Convention March 23-25, in Biloxi, Mississippi, congratulated Dorsey management for planning a program that sparked with enthusiasm from start to finish.

After a message of welcome by George L. Collier, Dorsey Trailers President, and T. K. Dorsey, Executive Vice President and Director of Sales, the keynote address was made by George E. Herman, Manager of Transportation Sales, Aluminum Company of America.

One of the highlights of the convention was the presentation of awards to the Top Ten Salesmen and the Top Six Distributors who sold the most Dorsey trailers during 1960. This was followed by tips from the top salesmen on how they made their sales and an incentive plan designed to urge distributors and their salesmen on to greater sales performance.

Major pictures on "Opening The Sale" and "Closing The Sale", discussions on advertising, sales promotion, financing, engineering, research and production, along with exhibits of new model trailers, kept the program moving at a pace which held everyone's attention.

"The primary purpose of the National Sales Convention each year," pointed out George Collier, Dorsey President, "is to bring together under one roof distributors and their sales staffs who represent Dorsey Trailers throughout the U. S., Canada, abroad and in Latin America. This gives each one an opportunity to see and hear first-hand what we have accomplished during the past year, and what our plans are for the year ahead with respect to newer and better model trailers.

"It also enables distributors and Dorsey personnel to exchange ideas and get to know others better," added Mr. Collier. "Our Division and Regional Sales Managers keep close contact with distributors," said Mr. Collier, "but they are now to meet and talk with the people who design and build Dorsey trailers and formulate the Company's policies."

The National Sales Convention, held during March or April each year, requires months of advance planning. Mr. Reginald Armour, President of the Dorsey Corporation of which Dorsey Trailers is a subsidiary, congratulated the Dorsey staff responsible for staging the spectacular 1961 program which was unanimously acclaimed the most outstanding event of its kind in the Company's history.

Hogs Named Best Farm Money-Maker

How to make $5,000 from 10 sows was outlined to a gathering of dealers for Bob's Eggs at "Operation Blast-Off" in Brundidge Thursday, last week, at an event sponsored by Bob's Feed Mills, Winwood Farms and the president of the companies R. L. "Bob" Godwin.

The discussion, illustrated with stereopticon slides, was given by G. B. Phillips, animal industry specialist from Auburn, who revealed new facts on hog production designed to show that the best money-maker on the farm are hogs.

Godwin announced the object of "Operation Blast-Off" to be an increase of 100,000 hogs in every county in the Wiregrass. The meeting at Brundidge was the outgrowth of a recent meeting at Troy of county agents and bankers where it was pointed out that while hogs are the most profitable crop in the Wiregrass, their production is not advancing as fast as the potential provides.

Unprecedented Rise In Prosperity Is Seen For Next Year

Nationwide, the indications are that the recession of the past eight months has ended. Some economists are already predicting record growth during 1961 and unprecedented prosperity in 1962.

A study of business trends by the Advertising Council indicates that the prophets of gloom and doom are running out of ammunition.

The eighth-month decline in industrial production came to a virtual halt in February, the Federal Reserve Board has reported. There are encouraging signs in the automobile industry.

Auto sales in general were up 19 percent in early February. Manufacturers recently slowed the liquidation of factory stocks indicating many manufacturers may be nearing the point where orders will give production a lift rather than being filled out of warehouse.

The first drop in five months in the number of workers receiving jobless pay was reported by the Labor Department in its report on February.

Black - Gold Game Will Not Be Played

Spring football practice was brought to a close last week at Elba High School, with the annual Black and Gold game cancelled due to rain. The game, which traditionally closes the spring drills, was to pit the seniors of this year against next year's varsity squad.

An appeal was made to the State High School Athletic Association for the game to be rescheduled this week, but the appeal was denied. By State rules, all spring drills must end on March 31.

Lindsey's Cafe Is Under New Owners

Wally Burgett, manager of Holiday Inn Restaurant, Ozark, purchased Lindsey's Restaurant from Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Lindsey and took over management Monday, this week.

Mr. Burgett with his wife, Dale, two children of pre-school age, and mother Mrs. Jewel Burgett, will move to Elba as soon as living accommodations can be found.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey will remain from active business. They have operated Lindsey's Restaurant for 11 years.

Council Endorses Voting Machines For Coffee County

Elba City Council went on record at the regular meeting Monday in favor of voting machines for Coffee county.

The action was taken at the suggestion of Roy Shoffner, editor of The Enterprise Ledger, who said city council of Enterprise and New Brockton had already endorsed the changeover, and the proposal would be made to the Kiniston council at the next meeting.

Mr. Shoffner explained that only half the present 50 polling places would be needed since state law provides that each box may have not more than 300 voters with paper ballots, but allows 600 voters for each polling place with a machine.

He said the machines cost about $2,000 each for a total of about $50,000 for Coffee county but that, with half the polling places, there would be a saving of about $1,200 each election, and that total votes cast for each candidate could be determined within minutes after the polls close.

Present were Mayor Roberts and Councilmen Smith, Taylor, Murpree, Lindsey and Ziglar.

Price Support Set On 1961 Oilseeds

Price supports for the 1961 crop oilseeds have been set at national average supports of $2.30 per bushel for soybeans, $2.80 per bushel for flaxseed, and $49 per ton basis grade (100) for loans on farm-stored cottonseed.

The cottonseed support is $45 per ton basis grade (100) for purchases from producers, with $40 per ton basis grade (100) for purchases from ginners to reflect normal handling costs.

Lester Gunter, Chairman, of the County ASC Committee, explained that the 1961 oilseed supports reflect approximately 70 percent of the March parity for soybeans; 75.5 percent of parity for flaxseed, and 78 percent of parity for average quality cottonseed.

Supports for these crops in 1960 were $1.85 per bushel for soybeans, reflecting 64 percent of parity; $2.38 per bushel for flaxseed, or 62 percent of parity; and $38 per ton loan rate to producers for cottonseed and $34 per ton purchase price, both basis grade (100), reflecting about 57 percent of parity.

In announcing the support levels, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said, "The 1961 support price for soybeans has been increased 45 cents per bushel from last year's support to gear production of this important oil crop into the 1961 emergency feed grain program and to meet anticipated needs.

"The requirement for vegetable oils are tremendous throughout the world. In view of this, there is need to encourage a better balance between acreages of soybeans and of feed crops for which production is outrunning current needs."

Do You Belong To The Clerisy? . . .

(From The Imperial Metal Magazine)

Robertson Davies is a Canadian, a book man, a book reviewer, and an author. As author of "A Voice From The Attic" (Knopf) he has put in readable prose more divergent and original thought on books than anyone else up to this moment.

He addresses himself to a segment of mankind which he calls the clerisy. Who are the clerisy? To use Davies' words, "They are people who like to read books." Then he asks: "Does the clerisy mean all people who read books? No; the name can only be applied with justice to those within that body who read for pleasure and with some pretension to taste."

In this book you are likely to find yourself identified and you are sure to find dozens of your friends who fit in to special categories, for instance "hidden books." These are the books "locked in the reader's desk, hidden behind shelves." Lady Chatterley's Lover was in this group until recently, as were Ulysses and Tropic of Cancer.

A book, Davies says, is a mirror of the owner. Your library is, in some degree, a portrait of you.

Support Prices For Grain Crops Given

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has announced the following advance national average support prices for feed grains:

Corn — $1.20 per bushel average for all grades.
Barley — .93 cents per bushel for grade No. 2 or better.
Grain Sorghum — $1.93 per hundredweight for grade No. 2 or better.

Cats — .62 cents per bushel for all grades.
Rye — $1.02 per bushel for grade No. 2 or better or grading No. 3 on test weight only.

Under provisions of the emergency 1-year feed grain program, Secretary Freeman has determined that farmers in order to be eligible for support on any of the feed grains from 1961 production must reduce their corn and grain sorghum acreage by at least 20 percent from their average acreage of 1959 and 1960. However, to maintain income for farmers reducing their acreage, payments either in cash or in-kind from feed grains in the CCC inventory will be made to compensate farmers for carrying out approved conservation practices on the retired acres.

He has already completed an outstanding record in the four semesters he has been at the university. He is a member of the freshman scholar's honor society, Phi Eta Sigma; was named Outstanding Freshman for 1959-60; is secretary of the Interfraternity Council; named one of five scholastics for the Honor Program recently initiated in the College of Arts and Sciences.

H. C. Grantham of Route 3, Elba, front row, center. Lacks One Thing
As a state official whose job it was to encourage new industry to come to Alabama, he found that "South Alabama has everything in its favor except one. It has a favorable climate, water resources, and is near to the Gulf beaches, and areas providing hunting and fishing for recreation of employees in industrial plants. But it lacks skilled personnel.

"We are living in a technical age. The minimum wage law has made it prohibitive for an industry to train workers. They must know the principles of the job before they go to work, and if they know the principles, it won't be difficult to learn the details.

The Best Investment
"A few years ago a young legislator named George C. Wallace almost single-handedly fought for, and obtained, legislative action to set up technical schools in Alabama to provide industry with boys and girls with the technical know-how."

"Money spent in the training of our youth is the best investment we can make, and I want to urge everyone of you, business and professional men, to take time out from your daily occupations occasionally to talk to the boys and girls with whom you are acquainted, and use your influence to encourage them to gain technical training. And I can assure you that if any boy or girl lacks the financial means to come to George C. Wallace trade school and genuinely wants to come, that I will find a way to provide his tuition."

Technical Training Urged as Greatest South Alabama Need
South Alabama is due for a growth in the next 10 or 15 years comparable with the growth of the Tennessee valley during the last 10 or 15 years, Philip J. Hamm, director of the George C. Wallace Vocational and Technical School, Napier Field, told the Elba Rotary Club Monday.

Mr. Hamm gave two reasons for the growth of the Tennessee valley: 1. cheap power generated by the river; 2. technical know-how. He said that South Alabama is going ahead with river development and will get the cheap power. "But we still lack the technical know-how," he said.

As a state official whose job it was to encourage new industry to come to Alabama, he found that "South Alabama has everything in its favor except one. It has a favorable climate, water resources, and is near to the Gulf beaches, and areas providing hunting and fishing for recreation of employees in industrial plants. "A few years ago a young legislator named George C. Wallace almost single-handedly fought for, and obtained, legislative action to set up technical schools in Alabama to provide industry with boys and girls with the technical know-how."

"Money spent in the training of our youth is the best investment we can make, and I want to urge everyone of you, business and professional men, to take time out from your daily occupations occasionally to talk to the boys and girls with whom you are acquainted, and use your influence to encourage them to gain technical training. And I can assure you that if any boy or girl lacks the financial means to come to George C. Wallace trade school and genuinely wants to come, that I will find a way to provide his tuition."

Highly-Prized Lost Watch Returned By Ad In The Clipper
When B. W. Hatway, of Elba, lost his 21-jewel watch in the men's room of a service station here, he had little hope of getting it back. But he thought it worth the risk of a dollar classified ad in The Elba Clipper.

A day or two after The Clipper was circulated last week, Moezel Flowers, oil truck driver of Elba, took the watch to Hatway and asked: "Is that yours?" It was.

Flowers had bought it from a boy for three dollars but when he read The Clipper he thought it probably was the same watch and wanted to return it to its rightful owner. Hatway gladly reimbursed the three dollars he had paid for it. Net cost to Hatway for the loss: four dollars.

Lacks One Thing
As a state official whose job it was to encourage new industry to come to Alabama, he found that "South Alabama has everything in its favor except one. It has a favorable climate, water resources, and is near to the Gulf beaches, and areas providing hunting and fishing for recreation of employees in industrial plants. But it lacks skilled personnel.

"We are living in a technical age. The minimum wage law has made it prohibitive for an industry to train workers. They must know the principles of the job before they go to work, and if they know the principles, it won't be difficult to learn the details.
